

EAST SIDE COUPLE IS MARRIED AT ST. CHARLES' CHURCH

Harry J. Eaton Weds Miss
Lillian Strasburger With Pretty Ceremony.

St. Charles' R. C. church was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings in the history of the parish at 8:30 this morning, when the pastor, Rev. F. J. McGivney, married Lillian A. Strasburger, 936 Seaview avenue, and Harry J. Eaton, of 1323 Seaview avenue. Both are prominent in East Bridgeport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strasburger, 1936 Seaview avenue, and has been employed in the needle department in the Singer Manufacturing Co. for the last six years. The groom holds the position of assistant engineer in the Remington-U. M. C. factory and is popular among his fellow workmen.

Accompanied by the bridesmaid, May Strasburger, sister of the bride, and the best man, Thomas Eaton, brother of the groom, the couple marched up the center aisle of the church to the strains of Loehgrin's wedding march.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown, wore a tignon hat with blue silk streamers and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore a blue gown with lechom hat with white silk streamers and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley and pink sweet peas. The bride wore also a white silk veil, emblematic of the Children of Mary society, of which she is a prominent and active member.

After the marriage ceremony Rev. Father McGivney celebrated a nuptial mass. During the celebration of the mass, Miss Jessie Murray rendered several appropriate solos. The party remained at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served, after which the happy couple left on the 11:10 o'clock train for Washington, Richmond and other points of interest, where they will spend two weeks on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside at 49 Mead street, where the groom has furnished a home.

The bride presented the bridesmaid with a handsome gold cross and the groom presented the best man with a pair of gold cuff links.

Safe Clothes.

Copyright 1915 THE HOUSE OF KUPFFERHEIMER

A man can safely leave the details of his clothes to the men in this Howland clothes store.

They know what's right; in pattern and cut, in all the little features that combine to make style.

They know what is right for each sort of man too. What is right for one is not necessarily right for another.

More important than knowing; they see that a man gets the right thing.

A lot of time and annoyance is to be saved here.

And, always, there is the assurance that the picked suit will be in tune with the season and the tendency of style.

By the way; young men's styles (so-called) are liked by all men.

The three button coat (two buttons to be buttoned) with soft roll front and the English-type trousers with tunnel belt-loops—All men see their good looks and good sense.

Made with cutout lining in coat, they are as cool and grateful as a Summer evening's breeze at Seaside.

and more and less.

Main floor, rear.

Clever bath-robes now at $2.85

Those new Pullman robes so light they roll up in little space for carrying on trip. Of madras or flannel.

Those Terry robes that are a bit like Turkish toweling and delightfully cool.

Those blanket robes that feel so grateful to a chap and give him just enough warmth.

All three sorts, in good patterns and in colors that a man won't quarrel with,—

$2.85

Yes, they are of special value. Any man will see that quick!

See the tests of Wearever aluminum.

When cooking utensils stand up to the tests that we are putting Wearever aluminum through, they are good utensils to have in the kitchen.

Wearever heats quickly, cooks evenly, is cleaned easily, lasts a long time in actual service. It is easy to use, because its weight does not make it burdensome.

True, it costs more than any other sort of cooking-ware. But cost is only comparative. Actually it is far more likely to be cheaper than other sorts—because of its long life and because food is not quickly burned or scorched by it.

Here are cooking-tools that should help every housewife:—

Double boilers, 2 qt size, for rice and other cereals, regular $1.70—$1.25.

Coffee pots—1 qt, reg $1.55—$1.45; 2 qt, reg $1.80—$1.70; 3 qt, reg $2.05—$1.95.

manded more freedom. He didn't get it.

Williams was arrested in this city where he had been living on Liberty street, on the charge of being implicated in the murder of Case, who was found November 28, lying on the floor of his store, in a pool of blood. He had been murdered with an axe handle.

According to Williams' statements to High Sheriff Chesterfield C. Middlebrooks of Winsted, who went to Litchfield at the receipt of the complaint, Williams is not being given enough latitude in the prison to suit him.

Sheriff Middlebrooks told Williams to remember that he is being held in custody on a very serious charge and he didn't propose to take any chances "with such a character."

ALDERMAN WILL GO TO FRONT TO GET FIREMEN HOLIDAYS

John H. Casey Will Appear
Before Board of Fire Commissioners Tonight.

When the fire commissioners meet tonight they will consider Alderman John H. Casey's proposal for an ordinance to allow all members of the fire department four 18-hour periods in addition to the four days off each month they now have, and for extra six days in each year. While President Leonard has expressed himself as not favoring the plan it is reported that Commissioner Casey, who is in favor of it, will be supported by the fire commissioners tonight and, if permitted, he would explain why he thought the firemen would be more efficient workers if given more time for relaxation than other men have. In discussing the matter today Alderman Casey said:

"In the old days of horse-drawn apparatus when the members of the various companies reached a fire, one of them had to hold the horse, one or two other men had to do something else that kept them away from the blaze. Now in these days of motorized apparatus almost every man is available for fire fighting, so that it cannot be said that this ordinance will cripple the department in any way. If the commissioners feel that four 18-hour periods are too much, why let them have three such periods. Even then they will not be enjoying the relaxation that members of fire departments in other big cities enjoy."

The members of the Bridgeport fire department are kept on continuous duty for 21 hours a day, 26 days a month for 11 months in the year. They are practically exiled from their homes 86 days a month.

"From a humanitarian point of view this system of continuous duty should be condemned as out of keeping with modern civilization. There can be no divorce the husband and father from the wife and children for 26 days at a time; that compels a man to abuse his stomach for 31 days a year, that deprives him of the privilege of divine worship and the opportunity of spending a little time with his fellow men; that practically bars one from membership in any organization if the organization holds regular meetings. If anything is calculated to drive men to drink it is to lock them up for 26 consecutive days and then turn them loose on the 27th. It is a relic of the barbarous past. It makes physical wrecks in a few years of the picked men of the community. The health of the firemen should be considered and they should be permitted to enjoy a reasonable amount of time at their homes."

"Official figures from the fire department report of New York city, where the time off of the firemen amounts in the year to double that of Bridgeport, and where they have four 15-hour periods off in a month, show that the 23 men retired for disability that year averaged 13 years' service. Ten were retired for consumption after an average of seven years' service. Three were retired for consumption after serving one year. All had passed three medical examinations before they were appointed."

Lieutenant Thomas P. Kelly of No. 1 Truck Co. will answer charges of being intoxicated while on duty, at the meeting this evening. Proposals on a motor tractor and other fire department apparatus will be opened. It is not thought that any contracts will be awarded tonight.

Jerusalem chapter, No. 13, B. A. M., will have a stated convocation in Masonic temple on Friday evening for the exemplification of the M. M. degree.

PERSONAL MENTION

Rev. Robert Kennan, now curate at the Maine Episcopal Cathedral in Portland, was in this city yesterday and today visiting members of his family and friends.

FAIRFIELD

(Special to The Farmer)

Fairfield, April 21—Members of Unquowa Tribe of Red Men completed the organization of the band last evening. It has 17 pieces and is under the leadership of John Dester. The committees in charge of the trading post that was held last week report that $250 was made on the entertainment.

NEWTOWN.

The whist and dance under the auspices of St. Rose's Social circle held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Halpin of Berkshire on Friday evening proved a success both socially and financially. Miss Mae Whaley, accompanied by Miss Margaret Kilbride, rendered a number of vocal selections. The young ladies who assisted in scoring were the Messrs Margaret and Josephine Kane, Bernice and Honor Keating and Margaret Kilbride. Among the out of town guests were the Messrs. Simon of Hartford and Mae Whaley of Bridgeport. Bands and violin furnished music for dancing. The receipts totaled $42. Mr. and Mrs. Halpin extend their thanks to all in making it a success.
